As a Member of the Mises Institute, I would like to inform you that Dr. Tom DiLorenzo has made the difficult decision to retire from his position as president of the Mises Institute. I am happy to say that Tom will continue as a Senior Fellow, the Institute's highest academic recognition, and I hope that he will continue to contribute to the Institute's events and to write articles for the Mises Wire.

I will shortly assemble a committee to commence the search for Tom's replacement. In the meantime, we are blessed to have a talented and dedicated staff, and the Institute is in good hands going forward, as seen recently at our annual Supporters Summit.

This year we celebrated the 30th anniversary of mises.org, and next year will be the 40th anniversary of Mises University; we will continue uninterrupted to grow and expand our programs as we've done for more than forty years now. We build everything on the Misesian and Rothbardian framework.

In the spirit of Mises and Rothbard, Forward!

Sincerely,

[Lew]

Founder and Chairman of the Board
